BACKGROUND:

Alberta Health has advised of the annual increase to the maximum rate that long-term care facilities can charge, effective November 1, 2022. These rates are adjusted annually to cover the cost of providing room and board, and include costs such as housekeeping, meals, maintenance and utility costs.

AISH adjusts the accommodation rate for clients who receive the modified living allowance to coincide with the maximum rate that is set by Alberta Health. Therefore, the maximum accommodation rates provided as part of the AISH modified living allowance will increase effective November 1, 2022.

Private room rate:	Maximum monthly rate to $2,201 from $2,132 Daily rate $72.35 from $70.10.
Standard room rate:	Maximum monthly rate to $1,810 from $1,754 Daily rate $59.50 from $57.65.

The maximum personal allowance portion of the modified living allowance currently remains at $322 per month.

INTENT:

To notify about changes to the modified AISH accommodation rates, to match long-term care rates.
